

Better Pirates Than Seamen, Seize Ship but Run It Aground

Hamburg Fugitives Board Schooner With Rich Cargo, Bind Captain and Crew, but Are Soon in Toils.

HAMBURG, Oct. 27.—A quartet of twentieth century pirates climbed from their rowboat aboard the motor schooner Bertha in the lower Elbe yesterday and in broad daylight subdued the Captain and his crew and started down stream with the vessel.

They were better pirates than navigators and soon ran the vessel aground, causing its destruction and the loss of its cargo of quebracho valued at 20,000,000 marks.

The four pirates bound the captain as soon as they got aboard and after scaring the crew by firing their pistols, it was easy to imprison them. Then the four intruders put on seamen's clothing, hoisted the anchor and set off toward the sea.

When the ship went aground the prospect of drowning in the wreckage so frightened them that they climbed the mast and signalled for help from a passing schooner.

Once the rescuers were aboard the distressed schooner the skipper with Chicago Woman Confesses She May Have Wandered Out of House, but Isn't Sure.

CHICAGO, Oct. 27.—Mrs. C. E. Miller is a sleepwalker. Wednesday night she had a dream of burglars robbing her apartment. When she awoke there was an ice-pick thrust in the mattress beside her. All her jewelry was missing. Miller said a wink and a gesture tipped them off to the character of the four men who were seemingly in charge of affairs. They were taken into custody and identified as having escaped from the Hamburg Jail.

burglars. But there was no evidence of burglars. The police reached the conclusion that Mrs. Miller did a sleepwalking stunt, hid her jewelry, and now will have to go to sleep again to find it.

The front door was found open. Money in Miller's pocket was taken. The apartment was searched, but the missing $2,000 in jewelry was not found. Mrs. Miller confessed she may have gone out of the house in her dream and hidden the jewels. But where she cannot tell.
